World Cultures is an introductory course that provides a foundation of knowledge in world history from the 15th century through the present as well as social studies skills. Through the exploration of various primary documents and historical themes each student will gain a global perspective of the interaction and interdependence of various cultures. Throughout the academic year, students will develop and master the following skills: writing an historical essay, critically analyzing current events, predicting future global trends, and presenting unique concepts and ideas as they relate to global history.

Dear Parents/Guardians,

As we begin this school year, I hope that you and I can form a partnership that will provide your child with the best possible learning experience. In my social studies classroom, I am committed to ensuring that your student will learn lessons that will help them during their time at Shore Regional and beyond. Please review the class syllabus with your student and feel free to contact me with any questions you may have about it. In addition, please provide me with both an email address and a phone number where it is best to reach you so I can keep in contact with you throughout the year about your student's progress. I look forward to starting a great year with you and your student!

Movie Permission

Throughout the year, there may be an occasion in which a film or film clip with a PG-13 or higher rating may be shown in class. An example would be the film Dunkirk during our study of World War I. If you give your child permission to view these films/clips, please check "yes." If you would like your child to be given an alternate assignment (with no penalty to them), please check "no.". If you have any further questions, please email me at acronk@shoreregional.org.

_____ Yes, my child may view PG-13+ films.

_____ No, my child cannot view these films and should be given an alternative assignment.
